From Fr. Havel...

At the wedding feast in Cana, we hear of the beautiful exchange between Mary and Jesus. Mary comes to Jesus and says to him "they have no wine." Jesus responds, "Women, how does your concern affect me? My hour has not yet come." Mary then says to the servers, "Do whatever he tells you."

At the beginning of Jesus' public ministry, Mary was already pointing to her son and leading others to the Lord! "Do whatever he tells you" were her words and she would continue to point to Jesus, as the Savior of the world. She would lead a faith-filled life that would lead others to the Lord. May we like Mary, place our faith in Jesus as our Lord and Savior. May our lives lead others into a relationship with God.

St. Casimir School Update

Greetings from the third-sixth grade students at St. Casimir's School! In Social Studies, the students have been learning about our government, how it works and how citizens are involved in it. The third and fourth graders made posters that show the main duties of our branches of government, while the fourth graders joined the fifth and sixth grade students to learn about the jury system. They then presented a readers' theater performance to our third graders, portraying a clear and fun understanding of the right to a fair trial. To go even deeper into this hands-on learning project, the fifth and sixth graders imagined they were running for student council president by creating posters and giving speeches as part of their campaign. They did a great job and had some ideas or dreams for the school that were quite popular. One idea was the installation of an escalator to help us avoid all the stairs--I am definitely a fan of the escalator!
